REPORTING PERIOD JULY 2022 TO JUNE 2023

Once again we have had a very strong and successful year. Following the agreement with the Shire of Augusta Margaret River to take over all programming and front of house responsibilities at the Margaret River HEART our management team and staff have worked tirelessly to reactivate the facility and expand its community accessibility.

The past year can be considered as one of two halves.

From July to December the focus was on negotiating details of the co-management agreement with the Shire. A Heads of Agreement was signed on 2 September and the full co-management agreement was signed on the 1st December.

Michelle Wright, our General Manager moved into the HEART in September to commence the transition and the rest of the team moved in in early December.

The co-management agreement allowed a six month "settling in" period over the first six months of 2023, with the first five year term commencing on 1 July 2023.

The focus from January to June was the bedding down of new procedures and bringing the HEART team together as one. Working closely with Shire personnel, a number of new operational procedures have been established to not only integrate the two teams, but to improve efficiencies and ensure an improved customer experience.

The Shire's HEART Technical team provided training and staff time to ensure Arts Margaret River staff and volunteers were inducted correctly and able to hit the ground running.

It was recognised that a critical element of future success for the venue would be to integrate staff from both organisations. A number of team building and joint staff development workshops have taken place to ensure a 'one team' approach based on a greater sense of cohesion and a shared understanding of the community's aspirations for the HEART. These are reinforced through a weekly joint team meeting.

I am particularly grateful to all personnel and volunteers at the HEART, but especially to our General Manager Michelle Wright, who has worked closely with Jason Cleary and Phil Bebb from the Shire to make the HEART a welcoming and vibrant venue.

During a free community event in March (Heartbeats) to celebrate the venue's re-invigoration, the HEART was named Nala Bardip Mia (Our Story House) as part of Council and Undalup's Walking Together strategy.

The focus on building community connection is at the forefront of our thinking and operations. A number of community initiatives have been implemented, including "hot desking" opportunities for local creative organisations such as Creative Corner and WA Guitar Festival, as well as activation of the Studio Theatre space for community groups and artists. We have also hosted a number of community fundraising events.

The focus on community usage to regain the venue's place at the centre of our community has been remarkably successful.

The year has also been financially rewarding – with a notional surplus of $133,074. I say notional as we have allocated $50,000 to a program fund in anticipation of reduced grant funding next year.

This financial strength came from 3 areas – our strategic commitment to production/administration contracts with other organisations to expand our revenue streams; the most successful Readers and Writers Festival to date; and the carefully stepped on-boarding of additional personnel with commencement of the HEART co-management contract allowing us to restrict staffing cost blow-outs.

Clinton Truman's Treasurer's Report provides more details on our financial performance, and I want to thank him for his insightful questioning and support during the year.

Our team has been expanded to facilitate our role at the HEART, and as usual they have been delivering in spades. Steph Kreutzer has taken on the position of Community Development Support and her impact is being widely lauded by all community groups, while Trevor Brannan continues to provide financial monitoring and advice of the highest level. Ex Board member Christopher Young has moved into the marketing role – with immediately visible impact. We miss his contribution at the Board of Management meetings but are very glad to have him in his new role. Ian Smith is our Volunteer and Event Support Manager without whose endeavours we would not be able to stage the number of events we do. Dawn Rybicki and Pam Townshend have also joined the team, rotating through the front desk as Customer Service Operators.

No Annual Report would be complete without reference to our flagship product – the Margaret River Readers and Writers Festival. Once more the remarkable Sian Baker put on a show to eclipse previous events. This was truly a "coming out of Covid" program, widely embraced by our local and visiting literary lovers.

We see our role as having three elements – Presenter, Creator and Supporter.

PRESENTER

As Presenter we focus on strengthening our community through the arts.

In 2022/2023 we presented 202 events and 52 Readers & Writers ticketed events.

Total attendance was 26,185 compared with 6,998 the year before.

CREATOR

As Creator we provide employment and exposure for local artists and others whilst promoting and fostering the arts in our community.

This was our 20th Anniversary of the free Cowaramup Sundowners, with three concerts in February.

In January our Art in the Garden event – this year at the Howard Park winery – raised approximately $17,000.

Our signature Margaret River Readers & Writers Festival is our biggest event of the year. The addition of Busselton events has built a strong beachhead for further expansion in future years.

SUPPORTER

An expanded Supporter role was a key element of our growth in 2023. We provide assistance to other creatives and artists.

Our reputation and history of successfully navigating the myriad issues that arrive in putting on an event has led many to our doors seeking support.

Some smaller auspicing arrangements have also been implemented, and we continue to pursue partnerships and collaborations with others.

BOARD OF MANAGEMENT

We are fortunate to have a number of individuals who give freely of their time and expertise in helping to guide your organisation forward. With Christopher Young resigning from the Board and moving into the marketing role it was important for us to replenish our numbers and we were fortunate to have two new talented people join us:

- Di Drew – Di has enjoyed an illustrious and award-winning career in Australia as a film and television drama Director and Producer. She is a recipient of the Australian Director's Guild Award (ADG) "in recognition of consistent excellence in the art screen direction in feature film and television"
- Galatee Underwood – Galatee has a legal background in mediation including a long association with international human rights.

We welcome both and are grateful for the additional skills and insights they bring.

I again thank all our other Board Members – Anne Shepherdson (Life Member), Heath Kelly (Vice President), Jeanette Sangmeister (Secretary), Clinton Truman (Treasurer) and Kerry Mather for their time, passion and commitment. Our organisation is stronger for their generous contributions and suggestions.

MEMBERS

We are appreciative of the continued support of you, our members. As of June 30 2023 we had 367 members. This is a slight improvement over the prior year's 213.

I am pleased to announce that membership fees will remain unchanged in 2023/24.

VOLUNTEERS

Without the support of our volunteers, we would not be able to put on the number and variety of events. Over the past twelve months we had 1,212 volunteer hours recorded. But we think that is understated.

I wish to thank all volunteers for their tremendous and continued support.

FUNDING BODIES

Without the support of our various funding bodies we simply wouldn't exist. These include Restart Investment to Sustain and Expand (RISE) Fund – an Australian Government initiative, The State Government as part of its Regional Events Program (Tourism WA), Regional and Remote Festivals Fund as part of the Regional Arts and Cultural Investment Program (RACIP) and Department of Local Government, Sport and Cultural Industries, LotteryWest, Australian Government through the Festivals Australia program, Shire of Augusta Margaret River, Regional Arts WA, Rotary Margaret River, Doral Mineral Sands and Edith Cowan University.

To all of our members, volunteers, staff, Board, funders and sponsors, as well as the Council and staff of the Shire of Augusta Margaret River, I again thank you all for your patronage and positive support.

David Shelton

TREASURER'S REPORT

REPORTING PERIOD JULY 2022 TO JUNE 2023

OPERATIONAL RESULTS

The Financial Year for 2022/23 was very much a year of two halves. From the 1 January 2023, the operating results of Arts Margaret River were significantly influenced by the new contract with the Shire of Augusta Margaret River to co-manage The Margaret River HEART venue. The key changes to our operations were: an increase in the number of events; the running of the cinema and bar/kiosk at the HEART; managing the external hire of the venue; a significant increase in staff costs (to be able to deliver the above); and receiving an increased contracted payment from the Shire of Augusta Margaret River.

The Financial year 2022/23 was also significantly impacted by: a best ever financial performance by the Readers & Writers Festival; the contract to manage the Regional Arts WA (RAWA) Hub in the South West (which will continue in 2023/24); the contract to co-direct the West Australian Guitar Festival (WAGF) (in October 2022); and the end of the contract to produce the final stage of the (South West) Stars Descend performance (April 2023). In total these existing activities alone contributed over $110,000 after allocating staff costs and overheads.

Grant funding received and expended in 2022/23 continued at a high level of $363,678. A number of grants for the Readers & Writers Festival are now 3 year contracts (including Tourism WA, The Shire of Augusta Margaret River and The City of Busselton) however RISE (Federal) funding ($94,000 in 2022/23) will not continue in 2023/24 as it was only available for 2 years.

Combining all of the above factors, Arts Margaret River made an operating surplus of $133,074 during the period (which was significantly better than originally budgeted for this year). In light of this surplus, The Board of Management has set aside $50,000 in a Program Fund to support our future programming (including particularly the Readers & Writers Festival and other HEART events).

Net current assets at the year-end increased to $229,886 (reflecting the surplus for the year) and provide a solid start to 2023/24. The revaluation of non-current assets of $14,246 included in previous years has now been removed as it is no longer considered appropriate.

Cash on hand at the end of the period was $518,118. This includes unexpended grants of $84,429 already received for events to December 2023 and $61,518 payments to make to venue-hirers for ticketing income received for events not yet held.

OUTLOOK FOR 2023/24

Our main focus for 2023/24 is the continued development of our co-management role at the Margaret River HEART – balancing financial stability with increasing the level and number of community events and support. Fundraising and grant assistance will also need to be a continued focus to allow us to support our events schedule and increased operational costs.

Needless to say, the support from our patrons, membership, volunteers, partners and sponsors in the period of transition to the Margaret River HEART has been exceptional and this will be critical to the continued financial stability of our organisation. Thank you to all concerned. We look forward to your continued support.

Clinton Truman

The Choir's emotional and sensitive treatment of songs will stir the passions and excite you in unexpected ways.

Unfortunately the dancer became ill on the day of the performance so the show had to be cancelled. There was no opportunity for it to be re-scheduled as the venue was not available and the dancer was due to go overseas for an extended period of time in 2023.

All ticket holders were notified and refunded.

Venues: Augusta Centennial Hall & Cowaramup Hall

Attendance: 60 Augusta, 50 Cowaramup

Performance Fee: $9,130 + 10% royalties
+ Doxy performance fees

A celebration of social life before social media, when to meet was to talk, laugh and move to music together. The Rivoli was an immersive dance hall meets dance theatre performance, featuring seven dancers and local band Doxy. The production had a large engagement component with two free dance workshops for 14-19 year olds held in June. Local dancers that attended the workshops were then invited to participate in a short segment of the show when it returned in November. Whilst there was a lot of initial interest, due to dance school commitments and end of year concerts occurring the week after the show, there were only 4 or 5 participants at the performance.

In addition, interviews were conducted with four locals (Kat Anna, Traudel Weber, Molly Hall and Nadi Haskell) about their dancing experience. These interviews were then incorporated into the show's story and voice over which added a lovely local element.

Despite a concerted marketing push and collaboration between Arts Margaret River and dance schools, attendance numbers were disappointing. We originally scheduled two performances on the Saturday, a matinee as well as an evening performance but cancelled the matinee due to a lack of interest.

The majority of people that attended the shows really enjoyed it, especially those local to Augusta and Cowaramup.

SUNDOWNERS IN COWARAMUP (FREE)

It was the first year since COVID that people could attend the Sundowners without any restrictions. The weather was fine for all three events and they were very well attended. Two bands performed each week, including a special first performance by a youth band from the MRSHS.

There were only two stallholders—the Cowaramup P&C and the Cowaramup CWA as the Lions did not run their stall due to a chip shortage. It was the first year that Rita Montgomery was unable to instruct Zumba during intermission as she was overseas.

CINEMA SCREENINGS

The move back into the Margaret River HEART in January 2023 enabled Arts Margaret River to return to cinema programming and screenings. Unfortunately extensive works to the Main Auditorium throughout January to April meant that all events and cinema screenings had to be held in the small Studio Theatre. This venue has a maximum capacity of 120 for movies.

From January to mid April, 30 movies were screened in the Studio Theatre. Whilst many of the movies sold out due to the reduced capacity, a lot of patrons complained that the raked seating was not comfortable, especially for a long screening.

From mid April to July, all cinema screenings returned to the Main Auditorium and 17 movies were screened.

Arts Margaret River focussed on school holiday screenings for children, new release block busters, film festivals such as the Ocean Film Festival, Surf films during the Surf Pro and introduced a Cheap Tuesday option. A number of documentaries were screened including: Black Cockatoo Crisis, Fighting Giants (Frack Free), The Giants plus a Lotterywest livestream of Carmen. A special 'Harmony Week' screening of Hit the Road was put on in collaboration with the Shire of Augusta-Margaret River.

Arts Margaret River also implemented a Cinema Fundraising opportunity for community groups with a large proportion of ticket sales donated to the group. The first fundraiser screening was Black Cockatoo Crisis for the Margaret River Independent School. More fundraisers are planned for the remainder of the year.

Total cinema attendance: 5,626 (January-July 2023)

This year saw a return to a fully in person program, with the only exception being author Hugh Mackay, who due to medical concerns around flying was not able to travel and joined us virtually. As part of our 2022 survey, we received a number of responses asking us to move back to a fully in person program and we were very happy to be able to deliver this.

We continued to evolve our workshop series this year building on the success of 2022 with paid writers workshops hosted by Fremantle Press and This is Your Life Story.

In addition, we created a free writers workshops hosted in partnership with Busselton, Dunsborough, Augusta and Margaret River libraries. These library workshops were offered free as part of our community engagement program with registration to confirm places.

We partnered with the Fellowship of Australian Writers WA (FAWWA), WritingWA and YA for WA to provide information for budding writers hosted in our foyer.

We partnered with Undalup Association our Cultural Custodians to deliver the official Welcome to Country as part of the Festival Launch and to co-create a program of cultural events.

In 2023 we continued to create new and exciting mediums of storytelling to the festival and create new paid opportunities for authors and artists to showcase new works.

We worked with emerging Nyul Nyul playwright Melody Dia to create a free teaser performance reading of her new play Because We're Black. The teaser was premiered as part of our Festival Launch and performed on Saturday and Sunday as a free event (open to all) and followed by Q&A with Melody Dia and the creative team which included director Rachael Maza, dramaturg Mari Lourey, assistant director Ngaire Pigram and a team of new and emerging Aboriginal and non-Aboriginal actors from Perth and the South West to take part in the readings.

We worked with local artists Michelle Bretherton and Cara Ratajczak from Weaving Stories of Boodja to create a fun and interactive weaving and storytelling sessions. Free guided weaving sessions were offered over the weekend in addition to the weaving being set up for drop ins.

We celebrated storytelling through more traditional art forms with our Visual Stories Art Exhibition & Competition and received 63 entries (the highest ever). Works were displayed in the foyer of Margaret River HEART for one month over the festival period.

In addition to our Visual Stories Art Competition and Exhibition, we created two additional free exhibitions over the festival period showcasing storytelling through the visual arts.

- Now and forever, a lasting connection was created by local artist Shelley McNab
- NEW YORK CITY Glow showcased the journey of artist and debut author Rachael Coad documenting the creation of her debut graphic novel NEW YORK CITY Glow.

Our Young Readers & Writers Program (YR&W) was back with a bang this year after being cancelled in 2022 due to COVID outbreaks in the South West. This year we have 15 schools take part with 2,771 students attending creative, illustration and storytelling sessions as part of their school day.

Our Storytelling Snug was back over the Festival weekend featuring five children's authors and hosted free storytelling and creative sessions for all the family.

This year we had 65 incredible volunteers from our local community. Their combined hours were 505 equating to a value in-kind donation of $20,220 based on $40 per hour costs.
